A WINTER THEATRE HIKE

Learn more about the origins of ski tourism in Lech as you visit a mobile play.

Back when the pioneers of skiing in the Arlberg region first began to head into the mountains and develop early techniques, they were primarily interested in sports and having fun in nature. Through trial and error, they laid the foundation for the development of ski tourism without knowing what the sport of skiing would one day soon become. For a little less than one hundred years, Zürs and Lech have been home to some of the most upscale hotels and sought-after locations for ski films. While enjoying the winter theatre hike, history and stories about the region come to life.

SNOWFLAKE PANORAMA TRAIL AT RÜFIKOPF

Snow is simply miraculous: billions of snow crystals merge to form flakes that float down gently like leaves and cover everything in a bright white blanket. Snow is very powerful in the Arlberg region: it shapes the people here, sets the pace and creates living conditions. Snow challenges people, it makes them fight. Snow is also an ally: it casts a spell over the landscape, makes it seem weightless and graces it with beauty.

The Snowflake Panorama Trail will bring you closer to this fascinating element we call snow. And it will introduce you to people from the Arlberg who transform adverse conditions into highly emotional winter experiences.

And that's no miracle, but a success story that has been seen time and again here on the Arlberg .
